

MORE Questions and Answers Regarding SAMS RFP

1. For Phase I submittal, there are five (5) volumes listed. May we submit all five (5) volumes in one binder? For example, the directions indicate that we must identify the volume number on the binder, however, if we submit all volumes together, would our volume number be Volume I - V?

All volumes may be submitted in one binder if they can be clearly separated, identified, and designated as such.

Label the binder "Volumes 1 - V"

2. What is the solicitation ID number for the RFP?

There is no "solicitation ID number". Solicitation ID is the SAMS Project.

3. How many copies of the binder should we submit? For example, the directions indicate that you would like to have one (1) original of each volume, plus a copy, however, if we consolidate all five (5) volumes into one binder, how many copies should we submit to you?

An original plus one copy.

4. Appendix A, Page 6, Facility Space Requirements Table, indicates that a Temporary Pre-engineered Metal Building is required. What does Temporary mean? Does the building need to be a stand-alone?

The temporary facility called for in the RFP would be a stand alone pre-engineered metal building with utilities. What the Air Force considers a temporary building may be considered permanent or semi-permanent by the private sector. We refer to it as a "temporary" pre-engineered facility because it is envisioned to be replaced with a Military Construction project in the 2005 time frame (Civil Engineer-Logistics facility).

5. Appendix B, Page 11, Paragraph f, requires a Cover Letter. Does the Cover Letter count against the page limitation?
